Sheet 1 - Information about 'Peer Gynt'

- * 'Peer Gynt' is a 5 act play in verse written by Henrik Ibsen. The music was written by Edvard Grieg.
- * Its first edition was published in Copenhagen in 1867.
- * Peer Gynt is the lazy son of Åse. She despairs of him with his untruthfulness trickery and thievery.
- * In the opening scene, Peer gives a fabricated account of a reindeer hunt (known as 'the Buckride'.)
- * He had thoughts of marrying a rich girl, Ingrid, but she was marrying someone else. At her wedding Peer meets a new family and is attracted to their daughter, Solveig, who rejects him.
- * Peer runs away with the bride and they spend the night in the mountains. He is then banished.
- * He turns to drink and wanders in the mountains. His mother, Solveig and her father search for him.
- * He meets three dairymaids who are waiting for their troll-lovers and gets drunk with them.
- * He hits his head on a rock and dreams of a woman in green, who turns out to be the daughter of the Mountain King, who then offers Peer the chance to become a troll if he marries the daughter. Peer does not want to become a troll. The threatening trolls melt away when they hear the sound of church bells.
- * Helga, Solveig's sister is there when he wakes up. He gives her a button to give to Solveig.
- * He builds a cottage and Solveig insists on living with him.
- * As she enters the cottage, an elderly green-clad woman and a limping boy appear. Because of a curse, Peer has to remember her and all his previous sins whenever he faces Solveig.
- * Peer leaves and goes home in time for his mother's death.
- * Peer travels overseas. He has many adventures, becoming a businessman, a slave trader, a missionary and many other things. He is robbed by his friends and left.
- * He finds some bedouin clothes and puts them on. In these clothes he is hailed as a prophet and entertained by an Arabian dance.
- * The chieftain of a tribe has a daughter, Anitra. He tries to seduce her but she leaves.
- * He travels to Egypt as a historian, visiting the Sphinx and the Memnon.
- * He meets the keeper of the local madhouse and discovers that the patients live in their own worlds. Always having dreamt of becoming an emperor, he becomes the 'emperor of "self."'
- * As an old man, he makes his way home and becomes shipwrecked, depicted in 'Stormy Evening on the Sea.' He meets the Strange Passenger on board the ship who wants to make use of Peer's corpse.
- * Back home in Norway Peer attends a peasant funeral and then an auction where he offers for sale everything from his past life. He is confronted with all the things that he didn't do.
- * He hides himself in Solveig's lap and she sings him a lullaby; Solveig's Cradle Song.
- * Other interesting characters include Bøyg, who has no real description. When he is asked "who are you?" his answer is: "Myself." The 'keeper of all fools' is God. A button-moulder. Aslak is a blacksmith.
- * Some known pieces of music include: 'Morning Mood' (depicting sunrise) 'In the Hall of the Mountain King' (where Peer sneaks into the mountain king's castle) 'Solveig's Song' (which opens with the words 'Winter may pass') Peer's own 'Lament,' the 'Whitsun Hymn: "Oh Blessed Morn"' (sung by a group of churchgoers) and the Dance of the Mountain King's Daughter (after which Peer is condemned to death.)

Sheet 5 - Information about 'William Tell'

- * 'William Tell' is an opera written in four acts by Gioachino Rossini. It was his last opera.
- * It is based on a play written by Friedrich Schiller. Nobody knows whether the story is true or not.
- * Its original language was French and its first performance was in Paris on August 3, 1829
- * The 'William Tell Overture' is the best known part of the opera. Many people recognise it from the television show 'The Lone Ranger' as well as from other films.
- * The overture is in four parts, beginning with a prelude, featuring cellos, followed by the storm, played by the full orchestra. Next comes the cor anglais playing the call to the dairy cows and then the finale, a dynamic cavalry charge.
- * William Tell has a wife, Hedwige and a son, Jemmy. They live in Switzerland in the village of Burglen in Canton Uri. William was a hunter, skilled in the use of the crossbow.
- * The setting is in the 14th century, in Switzerland.
- * In the opening scene, Mathilde, a Habsburg princess and Hermann Gessler's daughter, is saved from drowning by Swiss patriot Arnold, the son of Melcthal, a Swiss leader. Arnold and Mathilde fall in love.
- * The Habsburg empire was trying to dominate county of Uri. Hermann Gessler is the governor and it is his hat which is placed on a pole in the village for all the people to salute or bow down to.
- * William Tell refuses to acknowledge the hat and is arrested. The penalty is death.
- * He is given the opportunity to gain his freedom by shooting an apple placed on the head of his son. If he misses, both he and his son will be killed.
- * Using his crossbow, William fires and splits the apple without harming his son.
- * William is discovered with two arrows in his quiver. He confesses that if he had harmed son with his first shot then he would have killed Gessler with the second arrow.
- * Gessler is angry and has Tell arrested and put on a boat to be taken to prison.
- * A storm on Lake Lucerne threatens the boat and William Tell is released so that he can steer the boat to safety because only he has a sound knowledge of the lake.
- * Tell brings the boat close to some flat rocks that he knows about. He jumps on to them and pushes the boat with all its crew back into the stormy waters.
- * He then makes his way overland to where Gessler is. The Swiss army and the Austrians battle. The Swiss win the battle. With his last arrow Tell shoots Gessler through the heart and quickly vanishes from the scene.
- * The other important characters in 'William Tell' are: Leuthold, a shepherd and Rodolpho, an Austrian captain in Gessler's guard. Melcthal, Arnold's father blesses couples at a shepherd festival.
- * The name 'William' in German is Wilhelm, in French is Guillaume and in Italian is Guglielmo
- * William Tell's voice and the voice of a hunter are baritone. Rodolphe, Ruodi (a fisherman) and Arnold have tenor voices. Jemmy is soprano. Leuthold, Gessler and Melcthal (the father) sing bass.
